

Easley Family History

March, 1985

Dear Members of the Clan:

This Eesley Family History was started to give a chronological listing of the members of my father, Charles L. Eesley's family. His father was Albert Eesley, son of John and Hannah, the first Eesleys to come to America.

Since Albert had ten children, it seemed enough just to get these descendants in order. However, I had bits and pieces of information relative to John and Hannah's other children, and I have tried to follow these leads.

Much of what I have, came from my father, Charles Eesley and his brother, my Uncle George, who was often at our home during the eleven years that my parents were living with us. Uncle George spent most of his life with a pharmaceutical company and travelled throughout the U.S.A. and Canada, always taking time to be in touch with branches of the family. The two of them spent many evenings reminiscing about various relatives. The notes I made of these conversations were the beginning of my interest in extending the knowledge of the Eesley family.

I am indebted to Bessie Eesley of Fremont, Ohio for the work she has done over the years. Also Eleanore Eesley of Rochester, New York and Lenore Eesley of Lake City, Michigan, and numerous other cousins who have answered my inquiries.

I thank all who have helped and hope that you will continue to help me by correcting any errors you might find, and keeping me informed of names and dates of marriages, births and deaths.

I have put a red mark by the names for whom I have an address. These you will find in the appendix.

Enjoy, enjoy,

Jeanie Goldie (b. Dec. 12, 1836 in Ayre Scotland) came to Canada with her parents, (David Goldie and Jessie McCall Goldie) and her brother Will in 1845. With them was Mary, a girl in her teens; and James who were Jessie's children by a first marriage, their father having died some years before.

They arrived in Montreal. Mary, about 18 years of age, fell in love with a man she had met on the boat coming over by the name of Hunter, and they were married within the year.

James, who was frail, died before Christmas 1845. The following year, David, the father, learned that the Clementine, the ship they had sailed on the year before, was due to dock. He went down to see if any friends might be on her. He underestimated the distance between the boat and the dock and was drowned - September 14, 1846. Jessie soon longed for the old country, so packed her goods and with William and Jeanie set sail for Scotland. She didn't stay long - soon realized that there was a greater future in the new country and sailed back to Montreal with her two children.

William Goldie had a most eventful life. He was an inventor of some note. He lived the latter half of his life in Wilkinsburg, Pa. His niece, Jean Hunter, came to live with him as a special help, with his family of five children: Jessie, Eva, Will, Bessie and Mae.

Jeanie Goldie met and married Albert Eesley who had come to work in the Goldie flour mill.

Jeanie was blessed with a very remarkable memory. She frequently went to church, and having heard the sermon, would return home and repeat it almost word for word. She was a woman of superior intelligence. Those who knew her say that she was a wonderful story teller, and if this trait is carried in genes, it showed up in some of her children and grandchildren.

Jeanie and Albert had 10 children: John, Hannah (called Anna), William, Alf, Bert, Bessie, Jennie, George, Charles and Garfield.
